DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to papers filed on September 27, 2001.
2. Claims 1-6 are pending.
3. Claims 1-6 are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
5. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.
6. Regarding claim 4, the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "executing" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

7. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Art Unit: 3629

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter for a claimed invention to be statutory, the claimed invention must produce a useful, concrete, and tangible result. The above listed claims merely list steps of inputting several different types of information to be used in a business process. The claims fail to actually use the information to produce any type of result that is useful and tangible. The current claims require the input of information specific to a user therefore any current result is unable to be absolutely reproduced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 3629

9. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent 6,151,582,, Huang et al.; Decision Support System for the Management of an Agile Supply Chain.
10. As to claims 1-3 and 5-6 Huang teaches a system, method and apparatus for:
- a. Defining a sequence between supply and demand(C. 12 I. 52-54)
 - b. Registering relationship of the process, an order in which steps happen(C. 13 I. 45-47)
 - c. Storing a customer order(demand info) in a table(C. 7 I. 17-18; C. 8 I. 1-3).
 - d. Storing information regarding fulfillment of order(supply info) in a table(C. 8 I. 7-10).
11. As to claim 4 Huang teaches processing the order as requested by the user(C. 18 I. 54-57).
